(54) Title: MICROWAVE COOKING DEVICE FOR CRISPING

(57) Abstract: A microwave cooking device (10) for crisping food is described. The device (10) includes an internal crisping container (14) including a susceptor and outer packaging (30). In one embodiment, the internal crisping container (14) is a heat seal closed cooking bag having an inner surface coated with a susceptor film. The cooking bag defines a plurality of apertures (24) enabling moisture to escape the cooking bag. The outer packaging (30) contains the internal crisping container (14) and includes at least one aperture (36) enabling moisture to escape the microwave cooking device (10). In one embodiment, the outer packaging (30) includes at least one aperture-forming strip (32) that may be peeled away to define an aperture (36) in the outer packaging (30).
